Parish begins master planning process

The parish has engaged the Center for Planning Excellence (CPEX) to do a parish analysis for the creation of a new master plan. The parish's existing master plan is more than 15 years old. CPEX's work, which is underway, includes meeting with officials to determine key themes to be addressed in a master plan, and developing the scope of work for the master plan.

Once the parish has its report from CPEX, it will then issue Requests for Proposals (RFP) for firms to develop the master plan. This process will include community meetings in which the public can provide its input on the needs and focus for Pointe Coupee in the coming years. The master planning process generally takes 12-18 months.

"We have made great progress in rebuilding our dilapidated infrastructure, and now it is time to start looking toward the future," said Parish President Major Thibaut. "The master plan will provide a strategic roadmap to direct our investments and efforts in the coming years."

More infrastructure projects on tap for parish in 2025

The Pointe Coupee Council approved the $27.5 million budget for 2025. Key highlights of the budget are more than $15 million in parishwide capital projects between 2025 and 2026 and a major road construction project in late 2025.

"Through the aggressive pursuit of financial assistance from both the state and federal government, we continue to tackle our infrastructure problems, improve our public buildings, and complete capital projects in record time," said Parish President Major Thibaut.

The parish has obtained grant funding for these projects:

- Restoration of False River
- Restoration of the Pointe Coupee Parish Courthouse
- Expansion of our parks and recreation facilities, including a new park in Batchelor and an RV sewer system at the multi-use center, and completed a master plan for False River Park.
- Ongoing drainage improvements in Portage Canal and the False River Watershed, including Bayou Grosse Tete, Bayou Cholpe, Bayou Choctaw and the False River Outfall Channel.

Thibaut noted that almost $20 million of water and sewer projects will be underway across Pointe Coupee Parish in 2024 and 2025. "These much needed capital outlay projects will significantly improve our water and sewer infrastructure," he noted.

"On the economic front, we executed our second PILOT program for an industrial solar farm in Livonia, which will bring a $50 million dollar boost to our government agencies without a tax increase on our citizens," Thibaut said. "In addition, the Lightsource bp project brought in an additional $1.5 million of sales tax revenue that was previously not projected, bringing that project total to $31.8 million."

Kids, and deputies enjoy the Gift of Giving event.

Sheriff's Office in spirit of giving

In the spirit of Christmas and with the help of many hard working elves, Sheriff Rene' Thibodeaux and the staff at PCPSO hosted the annual Gift of Giving event on December 23rd at the Scott Civic Center in New Roads. Ten families were selected by local schools to receive Christmas gifts. In addition to those families, a drawing took place for bikes. Over 60 bikes were given away. Last, but most certainly not least, Sheriff Thibodeaux's Cook Team was able to provide over 700 plate lunches to the people of the community.

Sheriff Thibodeaux is passionate about helping the people of the Pointe Coupee, especially our youth. Happier, healthier families are the key to the success of our community. "Nurturing and helping our future generations, especially during the holiday season, is a priority," said Sheriff Thibodeaux.

PROJECT UPDATES...

COON ROAD PATCHING PROJECT...

The parish completed its annual road patching project in November. It included a complete overlay of a portion of Coon Road that was in poor condition. Work on the road is shown above.

VENTRESS DRAINAGE PROJECT...

The parish has also recently completed repairs to two main outfalls into False River. Both culverts were failing and resulting in potholes in the embankment around them. The parish installed an 82 inch culvert into one drainage line, and a 72 inch culvert into the other line. Concrete was then pumped into the gap between the existing culverts and the new culverts to secure and harden the culverts. The two drainage culverts should now last for decades. The photo above shows a new culvert going into the existing culvert.

$5 million bayou clean-out to begin

One of the most significant de-snagging and clearing out drainage projects in Pointe Coupee history will begin this year. The clearing, grubbing and shaping of Grosse Tete Bayou and Bayou Cholpe north and south of La. Hwy. 190 will go out for bid in mid-2025 and will begin before the end of the year. These bayous drain two-thirds of Pointe Coupee Parish, and have not been cleaned out in over 40 years. This project will result in quicker drainage flow throughout the parish.

Courthouse work continues

Phase II of the courthouse renovation is well underway, with windows being replaced, reconfiguration of office space, new A/C and heating system, restrooms, electrical, flooring, lighting, and upgraded security. The $3.9 million project is expected to be completed by this summer.

Phase I included waterproofing the building, re-roofing, and exterior painting, along with some HVAC work. That work totalled $1.6 million. Phase III, which the parish hopes to get underway in late 2025 or 2026, includes parking improvements and storage facilities for various agencies that are housed in the courthouse.

False River Park additions

Construction projects planned at False River Park for 2025 include two lighted pickleball courts, renovation and reorganization of the soccer complex, a dog park to be added in the fall, and renovation of baseball fields. The parish has just completed the addition of a basketball court at Batchelor Park.

DuRousseau named new airport director

Jean-Pierre DuRousseau has been named the new Director of the False River Regional Airport. Durousseau replaced former Director Yvonne Chenevert, who retired in December. DuRousseau has a bachelor's degree in aviation management and a master's degree in commercial aviation. He worked with LA DOTD's Aviation Division for six years, and before that he worked at the Baton Rouge and Shreveport Regional Airports. He is a native of Paradis, La.

His goal for the False River Airport is to enhance its growth and value to Pointe Coupee and the City of New Roads.

DA keeps promise to assist programs for families, children with funding

Keeping a promise made during the sales tax election in the Spring of 2024, District Attorney Tony Clayton has announced that his office will provide funding to three programs that help local children and families. “Our goal is to reach out to families and kids before they get into trouble and become part of the criminal system,” said District Attorney Clayton. “My office works hand-in-hand with these programs to get families and kids the help they need before they turn to violence and crime. I said if the sales tax passed, we would do more to help our youth, and the funding I am announcing will do just that.” The funding to be provided includes:

$50,000 TO FINS (Families In Need of Services) - This program brings together resources to help troubled youth and their families remedy self destructive family behavior or pre-delinquent juvenile behaviors. FINS goals are to reduce formal juvenile court involvement whenever possible while generating appropriate community services to benefit the child and improve family relations. FINS intervenes in cases of truancy, habitual violation of school rules, ungovernable behavior by juveniles, runaway behavior, possession and use of drugs and alcohol, caretakers contributing to a child’s problems, and children under 10 who commit adult crimes.

“Our district is in great need of the successful re-establishment of FINS, CASA and CAC,” said District Judge Kevin Kimball. “These programs are instrumental in helping our families and youth in need get services and resources that hopefully prevent them from frequenting the criminal justice system and help them become productive citizens. By his contribution to these programs, District Attorney Clayton has demonstrated his commitment to our youth. His pledge will aid these programs in maintaining sufficient staff focused on serving our local community so we can connect our families and youth to needed resources.”

$25,000 to 18th Judicial District CASA Program (Court Appointed Special Advocates) - CASA recruits, trains and supervises CASA volunteers to advocate for children involved in the foster care system and improve their well-being. “We are grateful for the support of the District Attorney’s office along with the support of our community of CASA of the 18th JDC,” said Executive Director Kendall Hebert. “While these children do not pick their situation, these local volunteers who have elected to be their advocate are making a lasting, life-long impact on our children’s lives. With this financial support, we can essentially change the trajectory of their lives for the better and ultimately provide a safe, nurturing, permanent home with the opportunity to thrive.”

$25,000 to the Child Advocacy Center - The Baton Rouge Children’s Advocacy Center serves child victims by providing direct services to these most vulnerable members of our community through forensic interviews, family advocacy and critical mental health services at no cost to the family.

“We are very appreciative of the support and funding that we receive from DA Tony Clayton and the communities that we serve,” said Executive Director Tanya Haase. “The increase in funding is very much needed to fill gaps from the continued decrease in federal VOCA dollars. This much needed assistance will allow the Center to continue providing vital services to child victims of physical abuse, sexual abuse, and those who are a victim or witness to a violent crime or human trafficking.”

Library Historic Materials Collection grows through public generosity

By Brian J. Costello

Since its inception in 2009 under Pointe Coupee Parish Library Director Melissa K. Hymel, the Library's Historic Materials Collection has steadily grown to include thousands of digital and hard copy images, documents and books dating from the 18th century through recent decades. Among the many citizens who have contributed to the collection are the extended Major and Thibaut families of Oscar and the Hebert family of New Roads.

The family of the recently-deceased Mrs. Charest D. Thibaut, née Lillie Mae "Pigeon" Major, a well-known local and state leader in the spiritual, civic and cultural spheres, who passed away at the age of 103, shared with the Library the attached image.

It was apparent that the photo was by the Rembrandt photo studio of Baton Rouge and dating from the late 1930s, portraying, right to left, then-Misses "Pigeon" Major, Annie Laurie Hewes, and Gertrude "Bootie" Alford in period dance attire.

The three young ladies were residents of Oscar, Miss Bootie being the first cousin of Miss Pigeon, and the two were reared together as sisters following the death of Miss Bootie's mother, Katherine Wilson Alford. The two girls grew up at River Lake Plantation, owned by the Major family since 1892, and Annie Laure Hewes was a neighborhood friend.

Another valued component of the Historic Materials Collection is an extensive vertical file of original and xerox copies of documents and images, most of which were collected by the local historical association, Le Cercle Historique, founded in 1992, and which items have formed a substantial part of the Historic Materials Collection. Among the items are 1920s and 1930s-era musical and dance recital programs, which were added to the collection by late educator and cultural leader Olinde "Topsy" Smith Haag.

The Library's "Music Recitals" vertical file contains, among similar pieces, a copy of the "Moorehead - Powell School of Dance Presents 'Merry Moments' A Dance Review" program from 1935. Among the advertisers in the program was Community Store, "Good Eats for the Table," a landmark downtown New Roads grocery owned by C.E. Hebert, Sr.

The general public is asked to share period items related to Pointe Coupee Parish with the Library's Historic Materials Collection, so that a rich and inclusive record of community life, history and culture is available for present and future generations.

BP monitors being given out for program

Ashley Pourciau with some of the BP monitors being given out in Pointe Coupee.

Ashley Pourciau, APRN, FNP-C, has returned to Southern University to pursue a Doctor of Nursing Practice Degree, and is helping Pointe Coupee residents through her studies!

One of her projects has focused on improving blood pressure readings for patients with hypertension. Accurate blood pressure measurement is essential to diagnosing and managing hypertension. Best Practices encourage home blood pressure measurement as it is useful in diagnosing, monitoring, and informing treatment decisions.

Ashley requested that the Pointe Coupee Health Service District support her project. The board approved and purchased 50 at-home blood pressure monitors for patients. Ashley will be distributing the machines at Our Lady of The Lake Physician Group in New Roads. To receive a home blood pressure machine, you must have a financial and medical need.

Contact OLOL Physician Group for more information: (225) 713-2400.

City's $5 million sewer improvement project fully underway, to provide big savings

Long needed repairs and improvements on the New Roads sewer plant and lagoon area are now about half complete. The work, which is part of the more than $5 million sewer improvement project, began in October.

Three new permanent pumps will be installed at the lagoon lift station, which is also presently running on a back-up pump. The new state-of-the-art permanent pumps will be more efficient, and will also save on energy costs. Aerators and other improvements will also be made at the lagoon.

Meanwhile, equipment to significantly upgrade the city's 13 lift stations has been ordered by the contractor, but is not expected to be in for a few more weeks. The lift stations are in dire need of repairs, with many not operating.

"Presently the city is renting pumps to run the lift stations, which is very costly," explained Mayor Theron Smith. "The rentals will no longer be necessary once the lift station repairs and improvements are made, and the city will save approximately $480,000 per year on rental fees once this project is complete. This will more than pay our bond issue for this project."

The city received 78 percent of funding from federal grants, and will use its federal COVID relief funding, local funds, some parish federal COVID relief funds for the city match, plus a bond issue to pay the remainder of the cost for the much-needed project.

A set of 4 new lagoon aerators to increase airflow to the lagoons.

The newly painted and refurbished pump building and hoist system is shown above. Work also included a new roof on the building.

The piping yard has a fresh layer of gravel. The pipe yard was mostly mud prior to this project. The pipe seen is the bypass pump pipe while new pumps are installed.

Upgrades on decor, fiber coming

Residents will enjoy a newly renovated City Hall lobby by this fall and fiber technology by the end of 2025. The project to repaint and re-decorate the main entrance to City Hall will be funded by a $25,000 grant. Another project to add fiber optic technology for fast internet speeds at City Hall, the Civic Center and city parks is on the way. Watch for more on these projects!

New city app is live, new website coming

The City has launched New Roads Connect, a new app that provides citizen notifications, information about city services, and links to the city's utility billing system, making payment of utility bills easy from mobile phones.

Citizens can download the app for free on their mobile app store and sign up for notifications. "It will provide quick notification to residents about things like power outages, road closures, events and more," said Mayor Theron Smith.

The app will also link to the city website, contact information for officials, phone numbers and more. The city contracted with GoGov, which specializes in apps for government agencies.

Scan the QR code below for easy download of the app.

The City is now working on a new website, which will be more user friendly. It is expected to be online by this summer.
